You Would?!

Like Father, Like Daughter. Ish.

A game for two. Read a ridiculous situation, secretly predict what the other person would do, then reveal everything.

Made for fathers and daughters of any age. Just as fun with a grandfather, uncle, big brother or any trusted man in her life.

How to play

1 Pick a scenario
Shuffle the cards or choose a collection.
Draw one card and read it together.

2 Make your predictions
Each of you secretly decides what the other would do. Write it on a slip of paper and fold it, or keep it in your head.

3 Reveal the answers
Take turns. Say what you'd actually do, then reveal what the other person predicted.

4 The Explanation, Please!
Explain your reasoning. If a prediction is spectacularly wrong, declare: "Absolutely not. Here's what I'd REALLY do."

The "Ish" is a wink, not a challenge.

No points, no winners, no scores. Just two people enjoying each other.

You need: the cards and scissors. Paper and a pencil are optional for writing predictions.
